Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurMurder in Steeple Martin Book One in the Libby Sarjeant Murder MysteriesFirst in a series of British murder mysteries featuring retired middle-aged actress and sleuth, Libby Sarjeant. Artist and ex-actress Libby Sarjeant is busy directing a play for the opening of a new theatre in her village when one of her cast is found murdered. The play, written by her friend Peter, is based on real events in his family, which took place in the village during the last war. As the investigation into the murder begins to uncover a tangled web of relationships in the village, it seems that the events dramatised in the play still cast a long shadowdark enough to inspire murder. Libby's natural nosiness soon leads her into the thick of the investigation, but is she too close to Peter's family to be able to recognise the murderer? Revue de presse Take Murder in Steeple Martin on the plane with you, and annoy your fellow-passengers by laughing out loud. --

Judith Cutler in Shots Magazine With fascinating characters and intriguing plot, this is a real page turner. --
